Bill Arp Returns to the Eternal City and meets his Friend Big John.

Editur Metterpolitun Rekord:

MR. EDITUR, SUR.—I hav not up to this time made any remarks in publik about the trials and tribulations, the losses and crosses, the buzzards and dead hosses seen on our journey home to the eternal city. I shall not allood to it now, only to remark that our comin back were not so hasty as our leavin. It was in the dead of winter, through snow and through sleet, over creeks without bridges and bridges without floors, through a deserted and desolate land where no rooster was left to crow, no pig to squeal, no dog to bark; where the ruins of happy homes adorned the way, and ghostly chimneys stood up like Sherman's sentinels a guardin the ruins he had made. A little one hos consern containd the highth of my worldly possessions, consistin of my numerous and lovely wife and children, and a shuck basket full of some second class vittels. Countin our offspring there was about ten of us in and about and around that wagin, thus illustratin what the poet has sed, "One glorious hour of crowded life is worth an age without a name," though the glory were hard to purseeve on sich okkashuns. Mrs. Arp are of the opinyoun that her posterity were never as hungry before in their life as on that distressin journey, and she once remarked that there want nary rod of the road that dident hear some of em a hollerin for vittels. My wife's husband is troobled bekaus they aint broke of it yit, and it do seem that the poorer I git the more devourin they bekum, all of which will eend in sumthin or other if sumthin don't happen.

We finally arrived within the presinkts of our lovely home. The doors creaked welcome on their hinges, the hoppin-bug cherrupd on the hearth, and the whistlin wind was singin the same old tune around the bedroom corner. We were about as happy as we had been miserable, and when I remarkd that General Vandiver, who okkupied our house, must be a gentleman for not burnin it, Mrs. Arp replied—

"I wonder what he done with my soing masheen."

"He didn't cut down our shade trees," sed I.

"My buroes and carpets and crockery are all gone," said she.

"It may be possibul," sed I, "that the Genrul.——"

"And my barrel of soap," said she.

"It may be possibul," sed I, "that the Genrul moved off our things to take keer of 'em for us. I reckon we'l git 'em all back after a while"

"After while," sed Mrs. Arp like an ekko, and ever since then when I allood to our Northern brethren she only replies, "after while."

By an by the skatterd wanders begun to drop in under the welcumm shades of our sorrowful eitty. It a delightful enjoyment to greet 'em home, and listen to the history of their sufferings and misfortunes. Misery loves company, and after the misery is past there's a power of comfort in talkin it over and fixin up as big a tale as anybody. I wer standin one day upon the banks of the injun river, a wonderin in my mind who would come next to gladden our hearts, when I saw the shadder of an objek a darknin the sun-lit bank. It wer not a load of hay nor an elefant, but shore enuf it wer my friend Big John, a movin slowly, but surely, to the dug-out landing on the opposite side. His big round face assoomd more latitood when he saw me, and without wait'n for reu a'ks he sung out in a voice some two staves deeper than the Southern Harmony—

"There came to the beach a poor exile of Erin."

"Make him fat," sed I, "and you'l fill the bill." Prouder to see him than a monkey show, I paddled the dug out over in double quick and bid him welcum in the name of the eternal city and its humble inhabitants. I soon got him afloat in the little canoo, and before I was aware of it the water was sloshing over the gunnel at every wabble. "Lay down, my friend," sed I, and he laid, which was all that saved us from a watry grave, and the naboorin farms from inundation. When safely landed I found him wedged in so tight that he couldent rise, so I relieved him by a prize with the eend of the paddle. As his foot touchd the sakred soil he gently separated his countenance and sung with feelin melody.

"Home again—home again—from a furrin shore,
The Yanks may cum and the devil too but I'll not run any more."

Recollektin some skraps of blank verse myself, I said with much aksent, "Tell me thou swift of foot—thou modern Asahel—Oh tell me where is thy chariot and steer! Where didst thou go when I did see thee driving like Jehu as we did flee for life."

"Ill tell you all" sed he, "I want my frends to know it. I'm now a man of war, Bill, and I'm glad of it. Ive done the state some servis and she knows it Ive handled guns—yes, guns—weepins of deth. I've slept on my arms since I seed you—night after night hav I slept on my arms, with hundreds of deadly weepins all around me. Ah Bill, Patriotism is a big thing. When you once breake the ice, great sluices of glory as big as your arm will jest spring up like mush rooms in your buzzum; and make you feel like throwin yourself clean away for your country. Let me set down and Ill tell you all I know, Bill, but as the teller said in the theater, "when you in your letters these unlucky deeds relate, speak of me as I am—nothing expatiate nor set down hot in malice."

"Jest so," sed I, "exaaktly—exaaktly so.—Proseed, my hero."

"Well you see night after you passed me, my steer got away. Hang the deseevin beast! I h inted smartly for him the next mornin, but I h inted more forrerds than backwards. Leavin my wagin with a widder woman, I took it afoot across the country by a settlement road they called the 'cut off.' Devil of a cut off it was to me. I broke down in sight of a little log cabin, and never moved a foot further that day. The old man had a chunk of a nag that workd in a slide. I perswaded him to haul me to the eend of the cut off, and I know he done it for fear I'd eat up his smoke house. Every now and then he'd look at the old oman, and she'd look at the smoke-house and then look at me. But that slidin blaness were the most orfullest travellin that I ever hav had. Every time the pony'd look back he'd stop, and when he'd start agin he giv such a jerk that my contents were in danger. My holt broke on one okkashun, a goin down a hill full of gullies. I rolled some twenty feet into the edge of the woods, and cotch up agin an old pine stump that was full of yaller jackets. Three of the dinged things stung me before I could rise, but I got through the cut off and fell in with some empty wagins that was stampedin my way.

"Gittin on to Atlanty, a fool Irishman stoped me right at the edge of the town and demanded my papers. I dident have no papers. Nobody had ever axd me for papers, but he wouldent hear an argument. As Quarles would say, he woudent jine isshue, but marched me to an offis, and I dident stay there 10 minets. I wer sent off to Dekatur with some fity conscripts, who were all in mournin, exsepin their clothes. I never seed sich a pitiful set in my life. I talkd with em all, and thar was nary one but what had the dyspepsy or the swinny or the rumatics or the blind staggers or the heaves or the humps or sumthin. Well, there want none of us dischargd, for there was bran new orders calling for every body for thirty days to go to the ditches As I couldent walk that fur, I was ordered to Andersonville to guard the prisoners. At Makon I met an old akwaintance, who was a powerful big officer, and he had me transferred to his department and put me in charge of his ordinance. There's where I handled guns, Bill, and slep on my arms. Whole boxes of muskets were around me, and I dident n more mind taken a snooze on a gun-box than if it had been a couch of fethery down. Its all in gittin used to it, Bill—all in the use."

"Jest so," sed I, "thats the way I sbe it—exaktly so, my friend, Proseed.

"It's blam'd lucky, Bill, that I dident go to Andersonville. They would have had me alongside of Wirz, either as principal or witness or sumthin, and some lyin Yank would hav had a swear or two at me about shootin him on the dead line. Before this my carkass would have been eat up by worms or cut up by Doktors, and my pikter spred all over a whole side of Harper's Weekly as a monster of deth.

"Well, I kep handlin guns and baynets and dangerous weepins, ontill one day I got a furlo to go to Rome. Sherman was playin base around about Atlanta, and so I had to circumference around by the way of Selma, and the very day I got there, everlastin blast 'em, the Wilson raiders got there too. I wasent no more lookin for them Yankees in Selma, than I were for old Beelzebub, and both of 'em was all the same to me. Blamd if they wasent shootin at me before I knowd they was in the State. How the dickens they missed me I dont know, for their minny balls sung yanky doodle all around me, and over me, and under me, and betwixt me.

"I tell you, Bill, I run like a mud turkel, lookin ahead of me at every step to find an easy place to fall when I was pluggd. An old woman overtook me, and I axd her to take my watch and my money. She took em in a hurry and put em in her boozum. Well I found a gully at last, and rolld in kersplosh, for it was about two feet deep in mud and water. The infernals found me there jest at night, and got me out at the pint of the bayuet. They marchd me to the wolf pen and there I stayd till the fuss was over.

"Right here, Bill, I want to make an observation. There was a feller with me when I was cotch'd, and I seed him make a sorter of a sign to the captain, and they turned him loose in two minets, and he jest went about anywhere as natural as a king, while I had a crossey'd dutchman standin over me with a baynet grinning from mornin till night. There was some Free Masonry about that, Bill, and if another one of these fool wars come along, I'll jine em if they'l let me.

"But I'm at home now for good. I'm gwine to stay like a sine die. I'm agin all wars and fightings. I'm opposed to all rows and rumpussess and riots. I don't keer nigh as much about a dog fight as I used to. Now, if one could always see the eend of a thing in advance, and the eend was all right, I wouldent mind a big fuss, but then you know a man's foresights aint as good as his hind sights. If they was, this war wouldent have broke out, and I wouldent hav lost my steer, nor my watch. I never seed that woman before nor since, and wouldent know her from any other woman that walks the yearth—blamd if I'm certain whether she were white or black. Bill, how is your offspring?

"Hungry as usual, I thank you my frend," sed I.

"How's Mrs. Arp?"

"Rebellious, John, very; but I think she'l be harmonized—atterwhile—atterwhile."

Mr. Editur, I will not relate further of these trying adventures at this time. Big John are now entirely harmonious, and I suppose his future career will be all screen.

Yours as ever, BILL ARP.

P. S.—Mrs. Arp wants you to git back the letters I writ her when she were sweet sixteen. Them offisers have got em and I suppose have laughd all the funny part away by this time.—They contained some fool things that boys will write when they fall in love, and my wife sometimes used em upon me as reminders of broken promises.

She says, if they'l send em, she'l try and forgive em—atterwhile.

Dont trouble yourself much, Mr. Editur, and t will be all the same to me. B. A.

Dissolution of Copartnership.

THE firm heretofore known as that of Baker, Cowper & Co has this day been dissolved by mutual consent. The duties devolving on one of the partners as Cashier of the Bank of Cape Fear, and the removal of the other to Norfolk (his residence before the war) for the purpose of practising law, have caused this dissolution. The business will be continued by Mr Pulaski Cowper and Mr James A Moore, late Teller of the Bank of Cape Fear, under the name and style of Cowper & Moore, who will settle up the business of Baker, Cowper & Co

COSMOPOLITE.

ON THE FIRST OF JANUARY WE WILL commence the publication, in the City of Baltimore, of a monthly Literary Magazine.

There is no publication of this character now issued South of New York City, and the closing of the war has left a large portion of the people of the country with no literary representative

The COSMOPOLITE will be devoted to Literature, Art, Reviews, Scientific Papers and General Reading, and we shall number among its contributors some of the first literary men of the South, with others from the North and from London and Paris.

All matter not original will be carefully selected from the newest and best of the English, French and German publications; and its Editors will spare no effort or expense to make it rank with the VERY FIRST magazines of the country.

As its name imports, we have established the COSMOPOLITE upon no sectional basis. We hope to make it the organ of general literature alone; and will be uninfluenced by any party or clique whatever.

It will be mailed to subscribers in any part of the country upon receipt of the following

Subscription:

Single Copies, for one year,	$4 00
Five Copies for one year,	16 00
Ten copies for one year,	30 00

☞ The COSMOPOLITE will be generally distributed among the Merchants and Planters of the South, and we will add, for their information, a few advertisements, at moderate rates.

☞ Liberal deductions will be made to booksellers and newsdealers.

☞ Newspapers publishing this prospectus and sending a marked copy to the undersigned, will receive a copy of the magazine. Address

DE LEON & CO.,

PROSPECTUS.

THE publication of the

The North Carolina Presbyterian

will be resumed in Fayetteville, on Wednesday, the 2nd of January next.

Confidently relying on the hearty support which we have heretofore received, we shall endeavor to render the paper more attractive, both in appearance and matter, than it has ever been, sparing neither pains or expense in the accomplishment of this purpose.

With the passing away of old things, a new spirit of activity, energy and enterprise, has been infused into every department of secular thought and business. Why should not the Church, also, partake of the progressive advancement? Why should she, of all the agencies brought to bear with such tremendous force upon the civilization of the present time, be inefficient, laggard and almost hopeless in the working out of her own destiny?

To arouse the church to the importance and necessity of work; of unceasing, restless, tireless energy in the service of her Master and Head; this shall be our first and chiefest aim In this we need assistance. We are not, alone, sufficient for these things. Our brethren must help us in every way; by contributions from the rown stores of thought and study; by zealous co-operation in a common cause, for the benefit of all; by extending our circulation throughout all our borders, and thus giving us the means and the opportunity of performing well the work to which we have consecrated all that we have, and all we hope for on earth.

Coe's Super-Phosphate of Lime,

OR

WARRANTED GENUINE.

BEING MADE OF THE BEST MATERIAL AND in the most approved manner, it is recommended to the public as superior to any other in the market. All who have used it speak of it in the highest terms of praise, and those engaged in its manufacture will continue their best endeavors to advance the high reputation which it has acquited.

We guarantee the Phosphate to be well manufac ed, and recommend it in preference to any other artificial manure in the market. We consider it nearly equal to the best Peruvian Guano, although furnished at half the price.

Messrs B. H. Allen & Co., the well known manufacturers of agricultural implements, say of it:

"We take pleasure in stating that we have sold E. F Coe's Super Phosphate of Lime for four years—It has given universal satisfaction to our customers. We most cheerfully endorse it as an article worthy of the confidence of the public, and the purchaser may rely upon securing an article honestly and carefully manufactured.

"We would state that, after careful examination, we believe this Phosphate has been improved each year since its introduction in this market, and that it will continue to maintain its present high standing. "Very respectfully,

"R. H. ALLEN & CO.,

HAMPSHIRE COAL.

CARGO OF 275 TONS HAMPSHIRE COAL DAily expected from Baltimore.

This coal is bituminous, and perhaps the best coal known for steam purposes, whether for locomotives or steamboats. It is used almost exclusively by Northern railroad companies and the Cunard Steamers. It is also represented to the best blacksmith's coal in the country, and is very extensively used in iron works for forging, etc. It is soft and friable, the fine coal being as good for use as the lump.

The attention of railroad companies, iron works and machine shops, is particularly invited to the importance of a trial of this coal.

The undersigned having been appointed agent for the Hampshire and Baltimore Coal Company, will be prepared to furnish any quantity required, at a reasonable price.

COPARTNERSHIP.

NEWBERN, N. C., November 1st, 1865.

WE HAVE THIS DAY FORMED A COPARTnership under the name and style of

Whitford, Dill & Co.,

for the transaction of a Shipping and General

Commission Business,

In this Town, West side Craven Street, on old County Wharf.

To the sale of Cotton, Naval Stores, Tobacco, Lumber, Staves, Shingles, Corn, and all kinds of Produce and Merchandise, and also to the sale and purchase of Real Estate and State and other Stocks, we will give our personal attention.

We are Agents for Murry's North Carolina Semi-Weekly Line of Steamships, between Newbern and New York, and for Sailing Vessels for Baltimore, Philadelphia, and other ports in the United States, and for different ports in the West Indies Thus it will be seen that we are furnished by our own vessels with the amplest facilities for the speedy transportation of Freight and Passengers. But in addition to these, there is a weekly line of Ocean Steamships on the same route, and a tri-weekly line of Steamers by inland route through Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal to Norfolk, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York; hence Merchants and Shippers entrusting the transportation of their freight to us, can rely with confidence on its speedy transit.

☞ We will make liberal advances on consignments.

All letters addressed to us on the subject of freight, or on any other business, will be promptly answered.

The Test Oath.

The inconsistencies of those in this State who insist, as a favorable occasion offers, upon the appointment of only those to office who can take the "test oath," and yet claim the highest degree of loyalty and fitness for office, for thousands of a particular stripe, who cannot take it, are so glaring, and the position so destitute of principle, as not to merit respectful notice.

We repeat, the law has been shown to be unconstitutional; to have been passed to effect a particular purpose during the war, and was not designed for a time of peace; and it has been shown by actual experience to be inoperative in the South, and entirely to defeat the legitimate purposes of the government, for the simple reason that enough men of the right stamp who can take it, cannot be found to fill the offices required. If it be true, that the Congress or any one else regards this a test of loyalty, it silences the claim set up by those who claim to be par excellence loyal, because they belong to the "straitest sect." This difficulty is being seriously felt by the "straitest sect," and hence, a very urgent effort is be made, not to repeal the law, but to modify it, so as to admit the faithful into the offices of the country.

The plea is now set up, that there are many many men in the South who could take it, but that Southern society is so stringent, that every man who takes it, loses caste. This plea is false, in that it does not tell the whole truth. The truth is, the number of respectable men, capable of filling office, that can take it honestly and conscientiously is small—very small.—But what is the plain truth in regard to that small number? Have they lost caste? Do they not enjoy the same associations they did before, and are they not equally respectable? Why is it that the large number spoken of by Mr. Kelly and others who could take it, cannot do so, without losing caste? Simply because the people, their neighbors know, they cannot do it honorably!

Take this State for example. So few were there of the right stamp who could take the "test oath" in this State, who would accept the office, that a citizen of Washington City had to be appointed U. S. Marshal. Important as the "straitest sect" men pretend it to be that men who could take the oath, should represent the State in Congress, they could find but four candidates who said they could take it, and yet the "strait sect" men labored much harder to elect Col. Brown, Col. Russ and Mr. Fuller, who could not take the oath, than they did either of the four who declared they could take it. And why was it only one of the four "test oath" candidates was elected? Was it because they could take it? There is no evidence of it. They failed because of other objections to them. Again, if "test oath" Senators were so important, why was not one brought out for the U. S. Senate? Nay, why did the "straitest sect" press Mr. Pool's claims, when they knew he could not take the oath?

Again, we have urged that it is almost positively certain that President Johnson and Mr. Seward, regard the oath as unconstitutional, and affording no test of loyalty. If according to the principles of these "test oath" men, it was ever important to put men in office who could take that oath, it was certainly so, when men were to be selected to fill the office of Provisional Governor. The office it is true did not require the oath, but if the oath can in any proper sense be regarded as a test of loyalty, then it surely ought to have been applied in the appointment of Provisional Governors; yet the President wholly discards that as a qualification, when he appoints them. So far as we know, none of the Provisional Governors could take that oath. Gov. Holden himself would have scorned it. If therefore, the true test of loyalty be the present status of the citizen, such as the President required for the Provisional Governors, what reason can be assigned why the 60 or 70,000 voters of this State are not as loyal as they are?

By the way, while on this point, we must briefly notice the following found in a cotemporary of the 1st. Feb. but which had escaped our attention until now:

"We learn that the Governor of this State was recently requested by the Secretary of the Treasury to designate persons in this State for the offices of Assessors and Collectors of internal revenue, who can take the oath. There are many intelligent and worthy gentlemen in the State who can take this oath, though in its letter it is hard even to Union men, and we repeat, ought to be modified. Whether Gov. Worth did or did not know persons in the different Districts who can take the oath, we cannot say; but we learn that he referred the matter to the members of the Legislature now in session from the Districts, and thus invited secessionists and latter-day war men to unite with the true Unionists in dispensing the patronage of the federal government. We make no comments, but simply state the fact. And we learn furthermore that the secessionists and latter-day war men who represent a certain District, refused to act with the Unionists in making recommendations for that District to the Governor, on the ground no doubt, that it was not becoming in them to know or to endorse any citizen who can take the oath."

To which we reply, Gov. Worth is ready with all alacrity and fidelity to serve the government in every possible way. But when he recommends persons to fill important positions, if he does not know them himself, he is not disposed to assume the responsibility of recommending them, upon the endorsement of any person he might meet with at random. Not only had he been asked to recommend those who could take the "test oath," but certain names were submitted as applicants or who had been recommended to him. Not knowing the department at W. not knowing who, worthy them perse in the several Districts could take the oath, he very properly submitted the matter to the representatives of the people of the several Districts, for their advice in the premises. He did not stop to enquire whether the gentlemen honored by the confidence of the people were secessionists, latter-day-war-men or "straitest sect." Taking it for granted that they were honorable gentlemen, and if disposed to advise in the matter, would certainly express a correct and honest opinion, he submitted the matter to them, at the same time conveying to them the names which had been sent him, with the instructions he had received, that the persons recommended must be able to take the "test oath," at the same time suggesting, we believe, that he was ready to recommend the persons whom they would suggest. The gentlemen from one of the districts did decline to recommend either the persons whose names were submitted or the names of others, we presume for the reason, though we are not certain that it is so, that they were not disposed to recommend, when confined to a particular class of persons, few of whom were as well qualified for the position as many others equally respectable and worthy.

Now in all this, so far from finding fault with the Governor or the delegates, we think the course pursued by both parties highly commendable. How any one who professes such admiration and respect for the "dear people" as some people do, could find fault with the Governor or the delegates, is past comprehension.

Chatham and Coal Feild Rail Road.

This Company at its late meeting in this city, determined to place itself upon such a footing as would enable it to proceed with its work.—The work done having been accomplished in Confederate times and at Confederate prices, rendered it necessary to carry up the stock to an amount, exceeding $900,000. By actual examination recently, it was found that the real value of the property of the Company at the present time was $200,000. It was deemed necessary, therefore, that the stock should be scaled, bringing down each share to that minimum. This was not only deemed necessary in order to bring the stock to its real value, but as a matter of sheer justice to those who may be induced to subscribe additional stock.

The Company determined to prosecute the work with vigor, and have authorized the opening of books for new subscriptions. The appointment of Mr. Battle as Public Treasurer, rendered his resignation necessary, and we congratulate the Company upon the appointment of Gen. Cox as President, whose energy and tact will be put into immediate requisition in com-

We regard no enterprise in North Carolina as promising better results than the completion of this Road. Penetrating the very heart of the coal and iron region of the Deep River country, and being a short road, it must pay well, whenever it goes into successful operation. Moreover, the completion of the Road will necessarily attract a large amount of capital at that point, for the development of the rich treasures of that region. We heartily wish it every success.

The University.

This Institution, venerable for its years and honored for the benefits it has conferred upon the State and the nation, needs now, more than at any period of its history, the fostering care of the State, and the sympathies of the people. For five years it has struggled through the severe discipline of a bloody war, held up amid distress and poverty, with a small body of students, whose contributions to its funds, could not have met the claims of its professors, for more than one of these years of suffering. It is well that it has weathered the storm. But it comes forth from the ordeal, heavily in debt to its professors, whose salaries have been almost contemptibly meagre; with its funds literally destroyed by the crushing weight of the war.

Its pecuniary condition is such and the prospects for filling its halls at present with a large number of paying students, so unpromising, that the question begins to be mooted, "shall we close the doors of the University?" We answer, never! never!

The trustees, we understand, at a recent meeting determined to prevent so untoward an event, by memoralizing the Legislature for help. We hope that body will exert itself to provide the needful remedy. Surely, there is public spirit enough among our people to sustain an institution, which has contributed so much to the real character and honor of the State, and which has filled our sister States with many of their leading statesmen, jurists and divines.

The Legislature.

Most of the bills considered on Saturday were of a private nature. In the Senate, an important report for the Committee on Banks and Currency was presented, on so much of the Governor's message as relates to Banks and Banking. The Committee oppose any action in the case, which would impair the obligations of the Banks to their creditors.

In the House, besides considering a number of bills, much time was spent upon the resolutions from the Senate, defining the status of the General Assembly.

The subject was further considered in the night session was not decided when our paper went to press.

THE ENTERPRISE.—The first No. of this paper, just issued in this city, by Rev. L. Branson, was laid on our table on Saturday last. It is respectable in appearance and filled with interesting matter. Rev. H. T. Hudson, is announced as assistant Editor. We wish the Enterprise much success.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

SENATE.

SATURDAY, Feb. 3.

The Senate was called to order at 11 o'clock A. M.

No minister made his appearance to the Chamber to-day, was read and approved.

Mr. Jones, of Columbus, from the select committee on Banking, to whom was referred that part of the Governors Message, referring to Banks and Banking, reported at length in opposition to any interference on the part of the Legislature with the obligations of the Banks, &c. The report was laid on the table and ordered to be printed. (We will publish the report or a synopsis of it in a few days.)

The Senator from Halifax, Mr. Wiggins, was granted leave of absence.

Mr. Gash introduced a resolution relating to the collection of taxes imposed by the late Convention. Read first time.

Mr. Shober a bill for the benefit of the public schools of the State, which was referred to the committee on Education.

On motion of Mr. McEachern, the bill authorizing a court of Pleas to be held in Cabarrus county, was taken up, the rules were suspended, and the bill passed its several readings.

The bill to amend the charter of the town of Fayetteville was taken up and amended, and the bill passed its final reading.

On motion of Mr. Arendell, the bill making an appropriation for the Deaf and Dumb Institution was taken up, the rules were suspended, and the bill passed its final reading.

Mr. Sanders introduced a bill to extend the limits of the town of Swansboro, Onslow County, which was referred to the committee on corporations.

A message was received from the House transmitting the following engrossed bills and resolutions.

A bill to incorporate the North Carolina emigration company. Read first time.

A resolution to appoint a committee to enquire into the condition of the Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal Company, passed its first reading.

A bill to amend an act to incorporate the town of Clinton, Sampson County, the rules were suspended, and the bill passed its several readings.

A bill to legalize the election of Mayor and Commissioners of the town of Morganton passed its second reading.

A bill to incorporate the town of Company Shops, in the county of Alamance, passed its third reading.

A bill to incorporate the Portis' Gold Mining Company, passed its third reading.

A bill to incorporate the Dillwood Cemetery, in Guilford County, passed its third reading.

A bill in relation to Constables and other officers passed its second reading.

The bill to prohibit for a limited time the distillation of spirituous liquors from grain, was made special order for Wednesday 12 o'clock.

The bill to secure taxes on the distillation of spirituous liquors, was postponed till Wednesday 12 o'clock.

A bill to amend an act entitled an act for the relief of Landlords was laid on the table.

Mr. Gash introduced a resolution on swamp lands, instructing a committee to enquire whether said lands are trespassed on.

The bill to prevent carrying pistols without license, came up and was referred to the committee on the Judiciary.

ly postponed.

On motion, the Senate adjourned until 7 o'clock P. M.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Saturday, Feb. 3d.

The House was called to order at 10 o'clock, A. M.

Prayer by Rev. L. Branson, of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

The Journal of yesterday was read and approved.

Sundry reports were made from Standing Committees, which will be acted on hereafter.

Mr. Hutchison introduced "a bill to incorporate the Trustees of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America." Palaced on calendar.

Mr. Manly, a bill to allow persons of Indian blood to bear testimony in controversies at law and in equity. Placed on calendar.

Mr. Palmer, a bill for the relief of Hiram Hunter, former Sheriff of Madison county. Referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

ON CALENDAR.

On motion of Mr. McKay, a bill to amend the charter of the town of Greenville, was taken up. This bill passed its second and third readings under a suspension of the rules.

A bill to amend the 12th section of the 118th chapter Revised Code, was put on its second reading. (Provides that widows dissenting from their husbands' wills, may take of his personal estate as in cases of intestacy.)

Mr. McKay opposed the passage of the bill. He saw no good reason for changing the existing law, especially as the alteration proposed would operate to the prejudice of children by giving the widow an undue proportion of the personal estate.

Mr. Manly said that the gentleman from Harnett had misapprehended the scope and object of the bill. The existing laws in cases of intestacy, gave to the widow when there was but one child, one half of the personal estate, but in cases of dissent from a will, when there is but one child, the law allows her but one third of the personalty. He saw no good reason for making a distinction between the two cases to the widow's prejudice.

Mr. Hoke opposed the change contemplated in the bill. The provision allowing the wife but one third of the personalty when she dissents from the will, was in his opinion, just and reasonable. Some respect was due to the husband's wishes.

Mr. Smith, of Hertford, thought that as long as the law allowed widows to dissent from their husband's willfull legal effect should be given to such dissent by creating an intestacy as to her. He hoped the bill would pass.

Mr. Jenkins, of Warren, was not only in favor of the bill, but when the husband dies intestate, if the property came by the wife, he was in favor of giving her the whole of it.

Mr. Moore, of Martin, thought that when the widow dissents from the will, such dissent should have the effect of creating a virtual intestacy as to her. He was in favor of the passage of the bill as reported.

Mr. Cameron, said the effect of the bill was to give the wife one half of the personalty in cases of intestacy, instead of one-third when there is but one child. No change was contemplated when there is more than one child. It was eminently proper that this change should be made. He concurred with the gentleman from Martin, and was in favor of giving the widow the whole of the personalty when there were no children, and if he were Caliph of Bagdad such decree should issue immediately. (Laughter)

Mr. McKay again addressed the House, in opposition to the bill. He thought it would encourage dissents from wills and consequent litigation, prejudicial alike to the widow and the children, as the costs would speedily absorb the personalty in question. The women were a dissenting class any way, and the tendency, and bill would be to foster the spirit fill the Court House with matter bearing the dismal plans. If it applied only to cases where there was but one child, he should withdraw his objection and accord it his support.

The bill passed its second and then its third reading under a suspension of the rules.

Engrossed resolutions were received from the Senate, concerning the status of the present session of the General Assembly. These resolutions embody the views of the minority of the Joint Committee raised on this subject and declare that the session of the General Assembly which began on the 27th day of November 1865, and terminated by adjournment on the 18th of December 1865, constitutes one session of the General Assembly. They further declare the sitting of the General Assembly convened by proclamation of the Governor on the 18th of January 1866, constitutes also one session.—They also provide that the present session shall close by adjournment on 3rd of February 1866, to meet again on the 5th day of February 1866; and further provides for continuing over and assuming, at the next session commencing on Monday next, of all business depending in the two Houses at the time of adjournment.

The question being on the passage of the resolutions, Mr. Manly moved to amend by substituting the resolution reported by the majority of the joint committee as follows:

"Resolved, By the Senate and House of Commons in General Assembly convened, that the adjournment of the body, and its meeting again under the circumstances aforesaid (set forth in the majority report,) is hereby declared to be but one session of this General Assembly." Mr. Hoke moved to amend the amendment by substituting as follows:

"Resolved, That the sessions of the Legislature called by the Governor to meet on the 18th of January 1866, is an extra session of the Legislature and shall be considered to end on the 3rd day of February 1866."

These conflicting propositions elicited a protracted discussion in which Messrs. Smith, of Hertford, Hoke, Dargan, Manly and Phillips participated. Pending a vote the House took a recess until 7 o'clock P. M.

Before recess messages were received from the Governor transmitting the report of the President and Directors of the Albermale and Chesapeake Canal Company, and a communication from W. J. Palmer, Esq., Principal of the Asylum for the Deaf, the Dumb and the Blind.—Sent to the Senate with a proposition to print.

[When the ballot was had on Thursday for Trustees of the University, the Reporter stated that Mr. Nicks nominated H. M. Waugh, Esq., but omitted to state that Mr. Waugh declined he nomination, saying that he had no aspiration to fill the position of Trustee.]

A Chapter of Contradictions.

[From the Washington Spectator.]

The wise man tells us "there is nothing new under the sun." But if there is nothing absolutely new, there are certainly some things remarkably strange—things, we suppose, which are to be seen only once in a life-time. Not a few examples of the day and in the circumstances by which we are surrounded. Let us proceed to enumerate some of them:

1. We have waged a sanguinary war for four years to keep the Southern States in the Union; and now that the war is over we proclaim that they are out of the Union and look about for modes of restoration and reconstruction! We have consequently sacrificed three billions of dollars and a half a million of human beings for nought!

2. We proclaim that we have conquered the South, but, alas, it seems the South has conquered us. They have, at least, acheived their purpose, while ours has failed and miscarried!

3. We have proclaimed that the doctrine of secession was false in theory and impossible in practice. But what do we behold? We see this very doctrine fulfilled, accomplished, demonstrated. It is no longer an abstraction, a myth, but an "accomplished fact!"

4. We proclaim Tennessee out of the Union, as she has forfeited all right to representation in the councils of the nation. Yet we of her citizens filling the Executive chair and wielding the sceptre of authority over the entire country!

5. We deny the Representatives of Tennessee a seat in the Senate. But we behold the same individual domiciled in the White House, and his wife doing the honors of reception to the nation's guests!

6. We profess to love the Union, and pride ourselves upon the sacrifices we have made in its behalf, and yet we throw every obstacle in the way of its complete restoration and permanent establishment!

7. We proclaim eleven States out of the Union; and yet when we would amend the Constitution we call upon those very States to say yea or nay, and we count their parts as if they were integral parts and co-equal members of the Confederacy!

8. We proclaim the doctrine that taxation without representation is tyranny and despotism, even justifying revolutionary resistance; and yet we practice the very tyranny thus repudiated by imposing taxes upon the people of this District!

9. We profess to believe that the majority should rule, and that the will of the people is the supreme law; yet we contradict that belief by forcing negro suffrage upon a people who have unanimously voted against it!

10. We profess to be actuated by the great principles of right and justice in legislating day after day, and week after week, upon a single topic, and yet do violence to those principles upon almost every other subject!

11. We denounce disunionists as rebels and traitors; and yet we are guilty ourselves of disunionism in rejecting all overtures for a prompt and constitutional reconstruction!

12. We proclaim that the elective franchise is an essential right of manhood, black or white, and yet we deny that essential right to foreigners for several years at least!

13. We proclaim that the privilege of voting for those who make our laws is essential to self-protection; and yet we deny that privilege to the citizens of this District and to women throughout the entire country.

14. We refuse to concede the elective franchise to the negro in the States where it would be a reality, and yet we grant it to him in this District, where it is a farce and a mockery.

These are a few of the inconsistences and contradictions of the day.

We learn that the steamer Yadkin, which was formerly used as the Flagship of Commodore Lynch, of the late Confederate States navy, was raised on Saturday last from the position in which she was sunk, just below the "Dram Tree," about two miles from town. We are informed that her engine was found in good order, having sustained but very little injury from its immersion. The boiler, previous to her sinking, had been taken out and conveyed to Fayetteville.—Wil. Journal.

The farmers living forty miles from Chicago, find it cheaper to cart their grain in ox wagons to that city than to send it by railroad.

The Proper Course for the South.

We take the following sober views of the Richmond Whig, in brief review of the present state of affairs, and the course to be pursued by the South. The counsel given accords fully with our own convictions of propriety:

The course for the South to pursue is plain. It is very manifest that we can gain nothing by torowing ourselves into the contest. It is our policy, to keep as quiet as possible. We have no voice or influence in the decision to be pronounced, although all our interests depend upon it. We naturally feel a lively, a painful interest in it, and are sometimes betrayed into expressions so warm as to be deemed imprudent. Seeing the President's process of reconstruction gradually developed permitted to elect municipal and county officers; allowed to choose State Legislatures and Governors, and seeing those Legislatures assemble, organize, and apparently exercise all the legislative functions, and our elected Governors recognized by the President and duly installed in office—we began to think that we had resumed our places in the Union, and would be permitted to speak our sentiments like freemen. We thought the contest ended, but find that it has but commenced. We forgot that the President's arrangements were only provisional, or could so be interpreted by an unfriendly congressional majority, and lost sight of the fact that martial law still prevails in the South. Every imprudent word we have spoken has returned to plague us. The expressions of wounded sensibility have been construed into evidences of disloyalty.

We have laid down our arms, taken the oaths of amnesty and obedience, and cannot strike blows, even if we so desired. We naturally chafe under the wanton insults and unmanly denunciations so freely bestowed upon us in radical quarters, and are tempted to hurl them back in their teeth, for it is not the habit of Southern men to submit silently to such treatment. Let us, however, always bear in mind that there is more manliness and dignity in silence than in bandying epithets. We should remember, too, that those whom we are tempted to abuse have the power of a mean revenge. If we are disarmed and helpless, they are not. The position in which we find ourselves is sufficiently humiliating, but it is the result of war, and we must reconcile ourselves to it as best we can. Harsh language cannot save us from wrong; on the contrary it may exasperate the Radicals to such a degree as to induce them to superadd measures of still greater severity.

One very ill consequence has followed the Radical demonstration in Congress. We had all, under the pleasant delusion that we were American citizens, and that our States were once more States in the Union, begun to experience a re-awakening of that high sentiment amor patriæ. We had begun to feel pride and pleasure in its indulgence. We have suddenly found ourselves checked, and the delusion has been dispelled. We have been thrown back into the "slough of despond." We are disappointed, discouraged, disheartened. We feel that our efforts to co-operate with and sustain the President have been in vain, have even made it all the harder for us. We have the satisfaction of believing that he is this day as firm as he was three months ago—if any thing firmer—and that he appreciates the sentiments of respect and admiration universally felt for him throughout the South, but it seems that not his, but Radical counsels are to prevail. All that we have done is to be counted as nothing—worse than nothing. It is to be construed against us and distorted into evidence of disloyalty. We are to be allowed to do nothing voluntarily, but in all things are to act under constraint and compulsion. The President said—"We must trust the South." The Radicals say—"The South cannot be trusted." It must be suspected, discredited, humiliated, disgraced and punished to the last extremity of rigor. This may not be brave, may not be magnanimous, but we are powerless, and may as well be silent. Our sentiments are known as far as we can make them known. Let us bear our fate, trusting to Providence to strengthen the hands of the President and to overrule the evil intentions of those who despitefully use and persecute us.

MARRIED:

In Smithfield, by Rev. Joseph Wheeler, Dr. J. G. Rose to Miss Emma E. Northan all of Smithfield, N. Carolina.

In the city of Memphis Tenn., on Thursday the 18th of January, at the residence of the bride's father, by Rev. L. Hawkins, Mr. James H. Carlile, of Louisburg, N. C., and Miss Emma P. F. Jones, of St. Louis, Mo.

DIED:

In Oxford, N. C., on the 3rd of January, 1866, Mrs. James T. Gilliam. The subject of this notice, though a long and oftentimes very painful sickness, which bore patiently, received the visit of skilful physicians, the kindnesses of many friends, and the unremitting attentions of the members of the family. She departed this life in the 43rd year of her age, and in the hope of eternal salvation through the merits of Jesus Christ.

DAILY SENTINEL.

Monday, February 5, 1866.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

County Matters.

On Saturday last, at the call of the Sheriff, Col. Russ, sixty-six of the newly appointed magistrates of Wake, were qualified and organized the County Court by the appointment of the following officers:

W. W. Holden Esq., was elected Chairman of the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions; R. C. Badger Esq., County Solicitor; Jas. A. Moore, Esq., County Register; N. S. Harp Esq., County Trustee; and W. H. Hood, C. J. Rogers, Allen Adams, I. H. Collins, Fendal Bevers and Jordan Womble Esq'rs, Wardens of the Poor.

All persons who had been recently serving as overseers of public roads were re-appointed.

E. H. Ray, Esq., Sheriff elect, qualified and entered into bond. J. J. Ferrell, Esq., Clerk of the Court elect, gave his bond and took the oath of office.

F. Bevers and L. B. Segraves gave bonds as County Surveyors. B. Y. Rogers and W. R. Crawford were appointed Coroners, and entered into bonds and were qualified.

M. B. Royster, J. R. Harrison, Jordan Womble and W. H. High were appointed a committee on buildings and to procure the County Attorney an office.

The following resolution were adopted:

Resolved, That we record with deep regret, the death of Nathan Ivey, Esq., formerly chairman of this court.

Resolved, That in the death of Mr. Ivey, the county has suffered the loss of a worthy and useful citizen, and the court one of its industrous and faithful members.

Resolved, That these resolutions be recorded on the minutes of the court.

ADVERTISEMENTS.—A great wonder—the two headed girl, or United African twins, will be on exhibition in this city, this week.

Medical notice of the physicians of the city—advises the people of increased rates.

Dissolution notice of Messrs. Bell, Maner & Co., Enfield.

Fresh Garden Seeds by a Baltimore House—Messrs. Bolgiano & Sons.

A good house servant wanted. Apply to the Editor.

CANNED PEACHES.—B. P. Williamson & Co. will please accept our thanks for a can of fresh peaches, put up in the best style by O. F. Page, Esq., of this county. These peaches are really delicious, and far superior in the manner of preservation, and in the size of can, to the same article imported from the North. Call at Williamson's, where they can be had in any quantity upon reasonable terms.

ARRESTS.—It is understood that Capt. Garoutte and Mr. Montgomery of the same department here, have been put under arrest. The cause we have not heard; but the impression is, it is connected with some alleged errors in the returns made in the government sales.

SHOT.—A son of Mrs. Whiting, a small boy, while out gunning on Saturday, in attempting to get over a fence, accidentally shot himself in the arm. He is not badly hurt.

Mr. Needham T. Perkins, of Wayne county, was waylaid near Pikeville, on Tuesday night, knocked down, his throat cut and robbed. He was in a precarious condition when last heard from, but no discovery had been made of the perpetrators of the deed.

Col. Fremont, the Superintendent of the Wilmington and Weldon Rail Road, offers one thousand dollars reward for the discovery of the persons who placed iron rails or other obstructions on that Road between Goldsboro and Neuse river bridge, on the night of the 30th of January.

The Newbern Times mentions several cases of outrage, attempting to kill, burn and steal, by negroes in Craven county.

Gen. J. G. Pemberton, who commanded the Confederates at the surrender of Vicksburg, is residing at Newton in this State.

Capt. Waring of the Charlote Times is a candidate for the office of county solicitor in Mecklinburg. We wish him success.

Mr. W. R. Hunter, the indefatigable Sunday School lecturer, is at his work again. He is a good man and is doing good.

The Salisbury Gazette has suspended publication, but promises to resume under better auspices, and under competent editorial management.

The Raleigh Standard wants the test oath so altered that "Union men" can take it. Every patriot wishes it so altered that no one would be asked to take it.—Pet. Index.

An eruption called "Swine-pox," has made its appearance in Milton, N. C. Several persons are reported to have died from it.

ADMISSION OF TENNESSEE.—"Parson" Brownlow has written a letter to Speaker Colfax in favor of the admission of the members of Congress from Tennessee. He says they are 'loyal," and can take the oath. The "Parson," however, strongly objects to the admission of the members from any other of the late rebellious States.

Communication from the President.

The President, in a communication to the Senate, encloses the opinion of the Secretary of War, that it is not consistent with public interests to give, in answer to the resolution of the 17th instant, the letters of General Sheridan and other officers in the Department of Texas, in regard to the present condition of affairs on the Southwestern frontier of the States, and especially in regard to any violation of neutrality on the part of the army now occupying the right bank of the Rio Grande."

The Tax Commission now in session at Washington are unanimously of opinion that the tax upon tobacco should not be laid on the leaf.—They recommend a tax of 5 cents per pound on all cotton raised in the United States after January 1st, 1866.

TELEGRAPHIC.

No telegrams received up to time of going to press.

GENERAL NEWS.

The President, it is said, has deferred issuing the formal proclamation declaring the restoration of the Union, until the opinions of Gens Grant, Sherman, Meade, Thomas, Sheridan, Sickles, and others could be obtained relative to the submission of the Southern States to the Constitutional authorities.

A PREDICTION BY A RADICAL.—If we are defeated—out of defeat will come an awakening of the people like a thunderstorm. It hall measures lull us to sleep, it is a fatal sleep, and brings us to Grant or Sherman for President, and Robert E. Lee for Vice President in 1849. Wendell Phillips's Speech in Boston.

Edward Stewart, Past Grand Master of the Free and Accepted Masons of the State of New Jersey, died in Newark, N. J., on Monday, after a protracted illness.

Ex-Governor Allison, of Florida, has been released from Fort Pulaski, and has arrived at Savannah.

The New York Evening Post and the New York Sun both take strong grounds against Senator Trumbull's Freedmen's Bureau bill.

Major General B. F. Cheatham was baptised by Bishop Quintard at Christ Church, Nashville, last week.

Thirteen men were hung for murder in different parts of the United States on Friday, the 12th inst.

Bishop Morris has only been deprived of the use of his right hand by his late illness. He suffers no other disability.

The Rev. John E. Edwards, of Richmond, is in Baltimore, soliciting aid for the suffering poor of Richmond and its vicinity.

Gen. Banks does not believe in the annihilation of States. He said in his speech before the soldiers' Convention, "he was not one of those who held that the rebel States have been destroyed, and he did not wish to see established a system of territorial governments therein, requiring the maintenance of a standing army, with all its dangers to the spirit and form of republican institutions."

An urgent pressure is being made to induce the President to issue an order restoring the Arlington estate to Mrs. Gen. Lee.

A writer says that he has come to the conclusion that the term grass widows arises from the fact that their husbands are always roving blades

The French Minister at Washington has stated his satisfaction at the prompt action taken by the United States to punish those engaged in the recent attack on Bagdad.

Some of the Republican papers dare to tell Mr. Stephens that to present his amendment, and at the same time to demand its passage "before the sun went down," was a little too arrogant to be tolerated. The N. Y. Post says "he exhibited his native dislike of freedom, and his propensity to tyrannize over others."

There are in the United States 64 towns bearing the name of Liberty, seven of them being in Pennsylvania. The largest "Liberty" is in Ohio, with a population of 4,075, the smallest, in Iowa, with a population of 5.

Ex-Gov. Wise announces in the Richmond newspapers that he will practice law in the courts of Richmond and Henrico county.

The farmers of Smith county, Tennessee, are suffering heavy losses by the hog cholera, which is proving very fatal, and threatens to carry off the whole stock of swine in the country. Consequently a universal slaughter of the healthy porkers is taking place for the purpose of saving their bacon.

It has been decided by the Secretary of the Treasury that upon all cotton shipped from the South to a Northern port, the tax becomes due immediately after its arrival at its destination. The cotton cannot be held in bond.

The St. Thomas correspondent of the New York Herald gives publicity to a report that Secretary Seward, in his late interview with Santa Anna, told the latter that the Monroe Doctrine would be enforced, and on no account would the United States permit an Empire in Mexico.

COMPLETION OF THE NORFOLK ROAD.—The track is now complete from this city to Norfolk, and the first train through from that place reached here on Sunday evening. All the preparations for the opening of travel are not, however, complete, and the route will not be open to the public for some days yet.—Pet. Index.

Captain Semmes has prepared an elaborate argument which has been presented to the President by Judge Hughes, his counsel. It is framed to show his right, under his parole, to be discharged from prison until he is tried.

The House of Delegates of West Virginia have unanimously adopted a resolution returning to the State of Virginia the bronze statue of Washington, taken from Lexington, Virginia, when that place was captured by the United States forces.

General Bragg's sugar plantation has been sold under the confiscation act, and subject to unknown mortgages for $48,000. He made no defence.

Gen. Sheridan has issued an order at New Orleans, refusing to allow emigrants to leave there to go to Mexico.

The Freedmen's Bureau in Alabama reports that the intelligence offices in that State for the employment of negroes have proved eminently successful.

The Catholic Patriarch of Abyssinia has addressed a memorial to the Emperor Napoleon, setting forth the grievances of Roman Catholics in that country, as hardly less intolerable than those to which Mr. Cameron, the English Envoy, and other English Protestants are subjected. It is to be hoped that Napoleon and Victoria will combine to bring the Emperor or Theodorus to reason.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS,

Are the most perfect purgative which we are able to produce, or which we think has ever yet been made by any body. Their effects have long ago shown to the community how much they excel the ordinary medicines in use. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital action of the body, remove the obstructions of the organs, purify the blood, and expel disease, they purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart a healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take, and, being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief, were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character, as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have cut their names to certify to the public the worthlessness of our remedies, which others have cut us the assurance of their conviction that our Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of our afflicted, suffering fellow men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis our American Almanac, containing directions for the use, and certificates of their cures, of the following complaints:

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Headache arising from out stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the bowels and pain arising therefrom, Feulency, Loss of Appetite, all Diseases which require an evacuant medicine. They also by purifying the blood and stimulating the system cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations which they make more profit on. Demand AYER'S and take no other. The sick want the best and there is for them and they should have it.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co. and sold by Williams & Haywood, P. F. Pescud, Raleigh, N. C., and Dealers generally.

ADDRESS THE INVENTOR:
B. FRANK. PALMER, LL.D. PRES'T. A. A. LIMB C'R.

These inventions stand approved as the "best" by the most eminent Scientific and Surgical Societies of the world, the inventor having been honored with the award of FIFTY GOLD AND SILVER MEDALS (or "First Prizes") including the Great Medals of the World's Exhibition in London and New York; also the most Honorary Report of the great Society of Surgeons of Paris, giving his Pads to place above others. ENGLISH AND FRENCH.

Dr. Palmer gives personal attention to the business of his profession, aided by men of the best qualifications and greatest experience. He is specially commissioned by the Government and has the patronage of the prominent Officers of the Army and Navy. Six Major-Generals and more than a thousand less distinguished officers and soldiers have worn the PALMER LIMBS on active duty while still greater numbers of eminent civilians are, by their aid, filling important positions, and effectually conceal their misfortune.

Advice and Pamphlets Gratis.

To avoid the imposition of Piratical Copyists, apply only to DR. PALMER, as above directed, or to his Agent, NOTICE.

I SHALL offer for sale, at public auction, on Tuesday, 27th of February next, the farm on which I now reside, situated partly in Nash, and partly in Edgecombe Counties N. C. The farm contains nine hundred and seventy five acres, of which one-third is in a high state of cultivation and well adapted to the growth of cotton, corn and oats. The other portion is well timbered and pasturage, valuable on account of the growing demand for timber in the vicinity.

I will sell, at the same time, my stock of all kinds, including Horses, Mules, Oxen and Calves, Sheep, Sows and Pigs, and all of good breeds.

—ALSO—

five hundred barrels of Corn, a large quantity of Fodder and Shucks, farming Utensils of all kinds, Wagons and Carts, a fine collection of Carpenters' Tools, and about twenty thousand pounds of Pork already killed and salted.

All this property will be sold under the hammer of Mr. J. J. Alston, well known as an accomplished auctioneer.

This property is peculiarly valuable, from the fact that it is within easy access of the Wilmington and Weldon Rail Road, being only three miles from one station and six from another. Location remarkably healthy.

Terms made known on day of sale.

LIFE INSURANCE NOTICE.

THE old and well established

Ætna Company, of Hartford,

Offers superior inducements to all who wish to provide for family or friends.

All losses are promptly paid. No case of litigation has ever occurred with this Company. With assets of $3,300,000, it offers to receive one half of the premium in a note and half in cash, and, after the second year, to credit each customer with the dividends of the Company, which are now 50 per cent. With a small outlay, $500, or $10,000 or $20,000, may be secured to the family after their earthly providers are taken away. What father or husband would not feel thankful on his dying couch, that he had availed himself of every proper means to place those nearest and dearest to him, above the pinchings of want and a life of dependence upon friends or charity? 8819 policies have been issued from the office ending Jan. 15 1866. The total income for the year 1865 was $9,683,329 57; total disbursements $527 8 5 24, leaving a balance to surplus fund of $1,155 2 4 33.

In Raleigh a large number have liberally responded and promptly acted in this matter; yet many delay, and may wait until it is too late. A man in this city lately left his place of business for his evening meal, well and healthy, but never reached that home except as he was carried there to die. Had that man taken the advice of the Agent, he might have left $5,000 to minister to the necessities of a sorrowing family. Delays are dangerous, procrastination destructive. But one says, "If I only had confidence in the Company that it would pay, I would insure." Well, it never has failed to pay, and to-day is more responsible than ever before. It is patronized by some of the most sagacious minds in the land—men competent to detect and expose any deception if it existed.

In its action, it is as quick as Peruvian Guano, while it does not leave the land in an exhausted state, but on the other hand permanently improves it. This has been fully proven by years of trial.

OUR DAY.

ABOUT the 1st of February next, we will commence the publication of a Literary Eclectic Paper styled to be issued, once a week, simultaneously in the cities of New York and Norfolk.

Each number will consist of 16 octavo pages, with 2 columns to each page, printed on excellent paper, and in a superior style of typography.

Unencumbered by sectarianism or party spirit, it shall be our fixed purpose to present nothing but the choicest fruits and flowers of Literature, culled from the gardens of the Old and New World.

We would particularly invite the attention of our friends in that section which for the past four years has been without a current Literature, while we promise to make our Paper acceptable to every reader in our common country.

Our terms for a single subscription will be:

For three months	$1 25
For six months	2 25
For one year	4 00

Payable in advance.

For single subscriptions and advertising, apply to

CIRCULAR.

TO THE PUBLIC:

The undersigned has now ready for the press a volume, the result of the incubrations of many years, entitled a "Short Treatise on Chronology in General, and especially on Classical Chronology." The work is not intended to be a chronological chart, nor yet a collection of dates and synchronistic tables. The author's aim has been to prepare a "Horn Book" of Chronology, containing the leading principles, laws and facts of that science.

The FIRST part treats of measuring time and adjusting its various divisions; the SECOND of fixing dates of historical events and arranging them in order; and the THIRD, of miscellaneous matters important to the chronologist.

UNDER THE FIRST DIVISION are discussed the day, the week, the month, the year and certain cycles used in computing the civil calendar and preparing the Almanac; the origin, history, nature, character, and various sub-divisions of each, especially among the ancients.

UNDER THE SECOND DIVISION the methods of ascertaing the dates or the time when they occurred; the actual dates of some important eras whose epochs as disputed; the most important epochs and eras which have been employed at different times and by different nations, including those which are still in use; and the actual dates of the most prominent events in classical chronology.

UNDER THE THIRD AND LAST DIVISION are considered the epochs and eras of less importance; a sketch of the chronology of India and of China; the principles of the art of mnemotechyny as applied to dates, and the different systems of that art which have been propounded.

The author believes that a work successfully executed upon this plan, though it may not contain very much that is new, cannot but be useful and profitable, not only to the reading public, but also to the youth of our country, in the acquisition of classical and historical learning: and HISTORY will be THE STUDY of this age; it must always be the study of thoughtful men in times of revolution and great political changes, such as our country is at present undergoing.

The contributions of North Carolina, and of the Southern States of the Union generally, to American literature, have heretofore been few, and for the most part, worthless. A few works of fiction and some fugitive poems include our past efforts; and with the excellent Latin Grammar, and the edition of Cæsar's Commentaries, prepared for the press by Col. Bingham—works the very best of their character which have ever fallen under our observation, and which, under more favorable circumstances, will yet win for their author that high reputation in his profession which he merits—our contributions to USEFUL LITERATURE are of the very humblest character. Under such circumstances this book is, with some confidence, presented for public patronage.

The author proposes to publish by subscription. The cost of publication will be fifteen hundred dollars, or more. The book contains about two hundred and fifty 12 mo. pages. It will be brought out in the best style of one of our best American publishers, as to type, paper and binding. The cost of single copies delivered will be $2.50.

Persons desiring to subscribe can communicate with the undersigned at Raleigh, but subscript on lists will be opened at various places of business in Raleigh and other towns in the State. Subscriptions will be required in cash as essential to the success of the enterprise. Editors who will give this Circular a few insertions and forward a copy of their papers containing it to the author, will be furnished with a copy of the book.

The volume will be placed in the hands of the publisher as soon as the author's success is at all assured, and will be issued to subscribers a few weeks thereafter.

WE STILL CONTINUE TO SELL BOOKS AND Stationery, and all other goods in our line. We cannot sell at cost. If we do so, we shall soon be unable to buy other Goods. We have been trading in our line for several years. Our friends have always patronized us largely, for which we are thankful. We have always tried to make a living profit on our Goods, and at the same time to give general satisfaction to our customers. We intend still to follow the same rule, which we think fair and honorable. Such books as we do not have on hand we will order for our friends.

Among our late arrivals we have Methodist Hymn Books, Episcopal Prayer Books, Illustrated Children's Books in great variety, Photographs of Southern Generals, and Photograph Albums

We have also a great variety of Common and Fine Bibles and Testaments. Also a large variety of Sheet Music.

We try to keep all School Books wanted by Teachers, to whom we sell at a liberal discount.

Call and examine our stock before buying elsewhere.

We are prepared to do the best BOOK BINDING in the neatest style at short notice.

We want to trade with our friends for years to come, hence we will sell as cheap as we can under the circumstances.

HOUSE AND PLATE SAFES.

TO THIS CELEBRATED SAFE was awarded the GOLD MEDAL, at the World's Fair in London, in 1851.

NOTICE.—This celebrated Fire Proof safe is no longer made and sold by SILAS C. HERRING, his license to make and sell them having expired.

The thousands of Certificates from Merchants, Bankers and Mechanics of all trades, that have been given in favor of this the only true "SALAMANDER" renders it useless for the subscribers to multiply words in its favor, as full thirty thousand of "WILDER'S PATENT SALAMANDER SAFES," have been manufactured and sold in the United States; and, in almost every large fire that has taken place during the last seventeen years, these Safes have been subjected to the severest tests, and not one of the "Genuine Salamanders" has ever been destroyed.

Safes sold, at New York price, with the freight to Wilmington added. No commission charged in Wilmington. We are prepared to take orders for these celebrated Safes. Samples can be seen at our office in a few days.

Every Merchant should have one of these cheap and secure Safes.

Desirable Farm for Sale.

THE PLANTATION SITUATED ABOUT TWO and a half miles from the village of Magnolia on the Wilmington and Weldon R. R., between that place and Kenansville, and known as "Barbacue," is offered for sale. The tract contains 360 acres, 100 of which are cleared and have been under cultivation, producing excellent Corn, Wheat, potatoes, &c. A portion of the land is also well adapted to the culture of cotton. An inexhaustible bed of Marl, a large spring of as good water as can be found in the State, and a never failing stream, running through the center of the cleared land, are among the attractions of the place.

The timbered portion of the land being nearest the Rail Road, and the entire place being easy of access to a first rate market, make it a highly desirable location for growing produce, raising stock and selling timber. Any one having the cash, can procure a bargain by applying immediately to

BOOK AND JOB PRINTING.

THE UNDERSIGNED RESPECTFULLY announce to the public that they have formed a copartnership for the purpose of carrying on the

in all its branches.

Each member of the firm is a practical printer, and, with an experience of twenty years each, they confidently appeal to the people of their native State for a liberal share of patronage.

They have one of the Largest Printing Establishments

in the State, and execute their own work, which, for neatness and cheapness, cannot be excelled in the South

The senior member of the firm has been for a number of years Superintendent of the Printing Office of the North Carolina Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind, which has always sustained a high reputation for neat and tasty printing.

They are prepared to execute, at short notice,
